Canada FERRIES BRIDGES BOAT TOURS

This booklet provides general information on bridges, ferries, and tunnels to and inside Canada, as well as the main cruises and boat tours currently in operation. Ferry services requiring advance reservations are indicated. All interprovincial services are listed in detail only once. However, references are indicated in each of the provinces served. Addresses of companies are included so that you may contact operators if more detailed information is desired. Rates and schedules are subject to change without notice. It is advisable to make reservations for cruises and boat tours in advance. Times shown are either standard for the area concerned, or daylight saving time, whichever is in effect.

British Columbia-Alaska

■ Prince Rupert, B.C.—Haines-Skagway, Alaska □ Alaska State Ferry System, Division of Marine Transportation, Pouch "R", Juneau, Alaska □ The M.V. "Malaspina", M.V. "Taku" and M.V. "Matanuska" make six round-trips a week through mid-spring, summer and fall and four round-trips a week during the balance of the year, from Prince Rupert, B.C. to Ketchikan, Wrangell, Petersburg, Juneau, Haines and Skagway. During June, July and August, the ferries stop at Sitka 4 times a week (two stops each direction). The rest of the year there are two stops a week (one stop each direction). The vessels, each of which carries 500 persons and 108 autos, are a connecting link at Prince Rupert with the Canadian Ferry System from Kelsey Bay on Vancouver Island for travel into Alaska and the Yukon Territory by way of Haines, and a connecting highway to the Alaska Highway or to Skagway and the White Pass and Yukon Railroad to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory.

Reservations should be made if a stateroom is desired. Reservations are not required for those who plan to utilize the airplane type reclining chairs which are available. Tickets may be purchased at terminals along the route, from most travel agents, or from Division of Marine Transportation, Pouch "R", Juneau. Reservations are available from this same address. Schedules, rates, general Alaska and Yukon travel information, plus information on Alaska's additional two ferry routes in south-central Alaska may be obtained from Alaska Travel Division, Pouch "E", Juneau, Alaska.

■ White Pass and Yukon Route □ The White Pass and Yukon Route, 1226 Joseph Vance Bldg., Seattle 11, Wash. □ The rail service now has made possible a new "Highway Link" between the Yukon and the coastal port of Skagway by transporting passenger cars aboard the same train as their occupants between Skagway and Whitehorse.

Cost of this service under the "Family Plan" is (U.S.) $65 each way for two adults and their car. Additional members of the family are carried at half the regular passenger fare.

The railroad connects with the Alaska State Ferry System at Skagway as well as with each sailing of vessels of the Canadian Pacific, Canadian National and Alaska Cruises Inc. arriving at Skagway from Vancouver.

Yukon Territory

■ The Government of the Yukon Territory operates a free ferry service connecting Dawson City on the east bank of the Yukon River with Mile "0" of the Dawson-Boundary Road on the west bank of the Yukon River. The ferry operates on signal on a 24-hour basis and runs from approximately June 1 to October 15 each year.

Northwest Territories

■ Northwest Territories Highway 3—Fort Providence, N.W.T. □ Mackenzie River ferry, free □ M.V. "Johnny Berens" □ Operates 5:00 a.m. to 1:00 a.m. June through October. Operation in May and November dependent on ice conditions. Ferry accommodates 8 automobiles or 5 heavy duty trucks—65 tons. One-way trip, about 8 minutes.
